

Traditional

A furniture styled hood is integrated into the wall cabinetry. The mantel sports a finely detailed sculptured ceramic tile, which is also featured above the cooking surface.

Glass cabinet fronts with true divided lights exhibit an extensive "Spode" bone china collection. In-cabinet lighting provided by built-in halogen lights adds sparkle and drama.

Applied column pilasters accentuate cabinet ends adding a design element of English formality, further emphasized with the capping of dentil crown molding to the ceiling.

Wine storage adjacent to an ice-maker completes the dual function of a wet bar within the butlers pantry. With a coffee maker and filtered water dispenser it also serves as a beverage center.

Classical raised panel cabinet doors are inset into the beaded opening of the traditional framed cabinets. Finished in linen white paint, pewter hardware provides cabinet opening.